Last "Wall Paper" Edition of Vicksburg, (Miss.) Paper Contains Dramatic News of Civil War

(Editor's Note: Have you a copy of an old newspaper? If you have, The Herald would like to see it and pass on its interesting features to our readers. All old papers will be returned to the owners intact within a week after they are received.)

Do you remember reading in your history books about the siege of Vicksburg by General U. S. Grant during the Civil War? Do you remember the bitter struggle portrayed on the pages of those books in telling of the hardships the people went through in that Mississippi river city during the months they were cut off from supplies of every kind by the Union forces which surrounded their beleaguered community?

Well, this week there came to the Herald office a highly prized relic of those terrifying days. It is an original copy of the famous "wall paper" edition of the Vicksburg Daily Citizen, and is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Brooks of 1928 Portola avenue. Through their courtesy, the Herald takes especial pleasure in presenting a resume of this valuable paper.

Printed on the blank side of ordinary garish red and gold-leaf wall paper, the Daily Citizen is dated Thursday, July 2, 1863. Wall paper was used because the Citizen ran out of newspaper and was unable to secure additional supplies because of the Union blockade. The paper owned by the Brooks has faded somewhat and consequently the red of the wall paper has come through on the printing of the four columns of news. In size, the Citizen is 19 inches long by 11 inches wide.

According to Brooks, the paper was found among the library effects of the late Prof. Willis L. Moore of Pasadena, who was for 30 years chief of the weather bureau in Washington, D. C.

Now let us read this 67-year-old NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER EXECUTION MARSHAL'S SALE. No. 182125.

D. C. BUTZ, Plaintiff, vs. ALBERT A. WELLS and GLADYS E. WELLS, Defendants. By virtue of an execution issued out of the Municipal Court, City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, wherein D. C. BUTZ, Plaintiff, and ALBERT A. WELLS and GLADYS E. WELLS, Defendants, upon a judgment rendered the 8th day of September, A. D. 1930, for the sum of Two Hundred Twenty-five and no/100 ($225.00) Dollars lawful money of the United States, besides costs and interest, I have levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants, ALBERT A. WELLS and GLADYS E. WELLS, of, in and to the following described real estate, situate in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows:

Lot 6, Block 1391, Tract 4889, as per map recorded in Book 83, pages 81 to 84, inclusive, of maps recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Los Angeles, State of California. PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That I will, on Tuesday, the 30th day of December, A. D. 1930, at 11 o'clock A. M. of that day, in front of the Court House door of the County of Los Angeles, Broadway entrance, sell at public auction, for cash lawful money of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants ALBERT A. WELLS and GLADYS E. WELLS, of, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder.

Dated this 1st day of December, 1930. CHAS. R. THOMAS, Marshal of the Municipal Court, City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California. By F. H. BRAKESUHLER, Asst. Marshal. ALONZO D. HITCHCOCK, Plaintiff's Attorney. Dec. 4-11-18-25.

Shakespeare Beach Location is Found

A gentleman from Hermosa who did not wish to be quoted has answered the question that appeared in this series last week, "Ever hear of Shakespeare beach near here?" He said that beach was a small strip lying between Hermosa and Manhattan Beaches—apparently an old subdivision.

The unknown informant is expected to report further details of Shakespeare beach later if he can dig up an old resident who "remembers when."

Mississippi newspapers: Editor J. M. Sworls is a staunch supporter of the Confederate army, as he writes: "The Yanks outside our city are considerably on the sick list. Fever, dysentery and disgust are their companions, and Grant is their master. The Yanks are deserting daily and are crossing the river in the region of Warren, crossing Grand and abolitionists generally."

Then our editor hurls a challenge in the teeth of General U. S. Grant—thus: "That the great Ulysses—the Yankee Generalissimo, surnamed Grant—has expressed his intention of dining in Vicksburg on Sunday next, and celebrating the 4th of July by a grand dinner and so forth. When asked if he would invite Gen. Joe Johnston (Ed. Note: The Confederate commander of the city) to join, he said 'No! For fear there will be a row at the table.' Ulysses must get into the city before he dines in it. The way to cook a rabbit is 'first to catch the rabbit,' etc."

But—and here is an interesting point about this old Vicksburg Daily Citizen—Editor Sworls did NOT publish this paper—it was printed and distributed by General Grant and his Federal soldiers! We learn this from a short "note" of 104 words that appears in the lower left-hand corner of the single page paper. The "note" is under date of July 4, 1863—just two days after our Confederate editor was to have printed his defiance to Gen. Grant.

The "note" follows: "Two days bring about great changes. The banner of the Union floats over Vicksburg. Gen. Grant has 'caught the rabbit'; he has dined in Vicksburg, and he did bring his dinner with him. The Citizen lives to see it. For the last time it appears on 'Wall Paper.' No more will it enliven the luxury of mule meat and friedcassé kilted—urge Southern warriors to such diet, never more. This is the last wall paper edition, and is, excepting this note, from types as we found them. It will be valuable hereafter as a curiosity."

Every word in Mr. and Mrs. Brooks' newspaper is interesting and we are sorry we cannot give more space to a description of that gallant Southern editor's product. The food supply was rapidly diminishing during those hot and rainy days of the summer of 1863 and consequently profiteering was rearing its head, as the Citizen declares: "A rumor has reached us that parties in our city have been and are now, selling flour at five dollars per pound! molasses at ten dollars per gallon! and corn at five dollars per bushel! We have not as yet proved the fact upon the parties accused, but this allusion to the subject may induce some of our citizens to ascertain whether such prices have been paid and to whom; and if so, let a brand not only be placed on their brow, but let it be seared into their very brain, that humanity may scorn and shun them as they would the portals of hell itself."

command of Memphis. Remember that journalism in those days did not fail to call a spade something worse than an old shovel! Here's Sworls' thrust at the editor of the Unionist Memphis Bulletin: "This paper at present is in distress and edited by a pink-necked, slab-sided, tooth-aching Yankee, who is a lineal descendant of Judas Iscariot, and a brother germ of the greatest Puritanical, hypocritical, howling scoundrel unhung—Parson Brownlow. Yet, with such a character, this paper cannot cloak the fact that Gen. Rob't Lee had given Hooker, Milroy & Co. one of the best and soundest whippings on record and that the 'glorious Union' is now exceedingly weak in the knees." How's that for "fearless journalism!"

Forgotten Cemetery Found at Stockton

SACRAMENTO.—An abandoned, long forgotten cemetery has caused postponement of construction of an industrial building for men at the Stockton State hospital, according to the department of institutions. Excavation had begun when workmen uncovered several graves. Work was immediately stopped and the state is now attempting to negotiate for removal of the bodies. No records have been found that will disclose the nature of the cemetery or when it was established. Unless more definite information can be secured, it is possible that a new site will have to be procured.
